THE EVOLUTION OF COLOUR TRENDS

Every year, Dulux Trade collaborates with a renowned team of international forecasters to identify global trends that will influence our lives and environments over the coming years. Our colour experts at AkzoNobel's Global Aesthetic Centre then translate these into a Colour of the Year and three complementary colour stories that reflect the times we are living in, offering specifiers a collection of contemporary colours to work with customers.

THIS YEAR

This year, there's a growing sense across the world that life must be better elsewhere. In times like these, there's a desire to break free, press reset and welcome in the new. This change allows our imaginations to run wild and gives us the chance to create something new and exciting.

Everyone just needs to believe it's possible. That's where our Colour of the Year and three new colour palettes come in.

WHAT DOES THIS MEAN FOR COLOUR

Our homes, offices, schools, healthcare and hospitality spaces need to be bright and feel uplifting. They should fill us with optimism, pride, imagination and creative energy. With our Colour of the Year and new palettes, we want to empower specifiers to turn interiors and exteriors in all sectors into just the spaces their customers need.

COLOUR OF THE YEAR 2025

TRUE JOY™

Dulux Colour of the Year 2025 is an uplifting yellow. A bright and positive colour that fills spaces with optimism, pride and imagination to help people move forward. It's created to inspire people to leap out of their comfort zone. Just go for it and feel confident in doing so. It can be used on its own as a bold statement colour or as an accent colour in combination to transform interiors and exteriors across a wide range of sectors.

PALETTES

This year, Dulux Trade has developed three palettes around True Joy™, offering easy-to-use colour combinations that can create a variety of different moods in both interiors and exteriors. These colour collections offer specifiers a range of flexible, on-trend options that can transform the way people feel in living and working spaces across every sector.

EDUCATIONAL SPACES

Schools, colleges, and universities are unique places that must support learning and stimulate the senses. These spaces will inspire those who experience them.

BOLD COLOURS

ADVENTUROUS SPACES

Colours: Bold and uplifting colours bring positivity and energy to a learning environment. Students will be stimulated to learn when they enter these spaces.

Relevance: With the outside world ever-changing, feeling safe and valued is vital to a child's development.^[1] By creating a positive and joyful space they are free to learn new things confidently and leap out of their comfort zone.

Result: Use bold colours to give a school its distinctive personality and identity, especially at the entrance and throughout corridors.

ADVENTUROUS SPACES

Colours: These bright and uplifting colours are inspired by the excitement of adventure. They bring spontaneity and energy to a space sparking creativity and innovation.

Relevance: Business managers now recognise that workplace conditions influence those who work there. Several studies show that office environments affect wellbeing, motivation, job satisfaction and productivity. ^[1]

Result: Create a space that motivates employees and brings a new energy to your workspace.

In offices, human colours create a calming space to assist collaborative working and team building.

SOCIAL HOUSING SPACES

The architectural and aesthetic aspects of Social Housing spaces must be handled with care and consideration. It's essential to create environments that not only meet the practical needs of residents but also promote their mental and emotional wellbeing. Spaces should be designed to be comforting and inviting, contributing to a positive and supportive community atmosphere.

HUMAN COLOURS

WELCOMING SPACES

Colours: Warm neutrals, inspired by raw materials act as a backdrop for our positive Colour of the Year. These hues create a sense of warmth and comfort, fostering a welcoming atmosphere that can help residents feel more at home.

Relevance: Social Housing spaces often need to cater to many diverse design tastes and preferences. These spaces should be friendly and inviting.

Result: The use of warm neutral colours in Social Housing spaces can significantly improve the quality of living spaces, promoting a sense of community and wellbeing among residents.

HEALTHCARE SPACES

Due to the nature of these spaces, the interiors and exteriors of healthcare buildings require a delicate touch. Patient, staff and visitor wellbeing is of utmost importance so these spaces should feel soothing and positive.

In buildings where the focus is on health and wellbeing, patients, visitors and staff need a psychological escape from stress and anxiety. They need soothing, restorative spaces that can help them recuperate. In more practical ways, colour can be an invaluable tool, aiding wayfinding and navigation.

SOOTHING SPACES

Colours: Warm neutrals, inspired by raw materials act as a backdrop for our positive Colour of the Year. This colour can augment a patient's quality of life, reduce feelings of stress and anxiety and aid recovery.

Relevance: Healthcare spaces are often branded as sterile, but patients need positivity, creativity and culture, to aid healing and make their days pleasant.^[1] These spaces should be friendly and visually attractive, where the wellbeing of patients is enhanced, staff feel more motivated and visitors are greeted warmly.

Result: Positive spaces that bring a sense of optimism that help patients, visitors and staff feel more at ease.

HOSPITALITY SPACES

Hotel, restaurant or library, hospitality spaces need to feel appealing and welcoming. This attracts visitors and creates a home away from home.

PROUD COLOURS ECLECTIC SPACES

Colours: Comprising deep, rich tones inspired by local cultures and communities across the globe, this palette creates a comfortable and homely feel no matter where you are from or have travelled from.

Relevance: Using traditional patterns, tribal motifs or iconic local symbols can infuse the space with cultural depth.^[1] Soft lighting paired with rich and saturated colours is ideal. Since this is a place where visitors can relax and eat, the colours support an air of warmth and informality.

Result: Spaces that make you feel rooted no matter where you are from. One that proudly reflects the local culture around us so we can embrace new inspiration.

COMMERCIAL COLOUR SERVICES

Our Commercial Colour Services team can help you create harmony between your space and the role it fulfills. From vibrant and dynamic to calm and focused, choosing the right colour scheme is key to delivering your brief's objectives.

Step 1: Brief - email & photos

Contact your Dulux Trade representative. They will gather all the necessary information about the space in question, including digital photographs if possible, and pass the information to the Dulux Trade Commercial Colour Services team.

Step 2: Design service level confirmed and process activated

The brief will then be handed over to the designers from the Commercial Colour Services team via email. Depending upon the size and scale of the project, the Commercial Colour Designer will then arrange a site visit, telephone call or video consultation if required.

Step 3: Design research & development

The Commercial Colour Services team will immerse themselves in the project, research its background, analyse its elements and use their knowledge, experience, and flair to create an original yet appropriate colour scheme.

Step 4: Design presentation

The resultant colour schemes will be presented to you in the format most appropriate for your project or client: digitally coloured imagery, printed mood boards or bespoke colour cards.

For more information about the colour support provided, contact one of our Dulux colour consultants today: Call 0333 222 7171, or e-mail TAC_supportedservices@akzonobel.com or visit Duluxtrade.co.uk

CHANGE STARTS HERE

We're determined to make a positive impact on your business, your client's, your projects and communities while reducing our impact on the planet. We believe that every time you paint, there is an opportunity to make a positive difference. That's why we are committed to developing innovative products and solutions that have lower VOC emissions, protect surfaces for longer and use renewable materials.

We're also proud to partner with organisations like Volunteer It Yourself, Community RePaint and the CRASH construction industry charity to improve communities and transform lives across the UK.

And with our digital tools like the Paint Calculator that helps you save time and money, while also reducing waste, or the Colour Schemes that helps you create bespoke designs, you're getting great support too.

So when you choose Dulux Trade, you're not just getting great products and tools – you're also helping change communities.
